Pacifica Chamber Orchestra Announces the 2011-2012 Season

Fred Chu, Artistic Director of Pacifica Chamber Orchestra, invites you on an exciting adventure of the world's most colorful chamber music. Our 2011-2012 season spans the Americas with stops along Europe and Scandinavia. Pacifica will perform five high-energy concerts filled with an incredible variety of composers.

Opening Concert, Sept.25, 2011, 3:00 pm at First Presbyterian Church, Everett Chamber music of William Grant Still, Bohuslav Martinu, George Enescu, and Carl Nielsen will enrich the senses and engage the audience with music from far and near. 2936 Rockefeller Ave. Everett 98201

Christmas Concert, Dec. 11, 2011, 3:00 pm at First Pres. Church, Everett Enjoy this festive time of the year with chamber music of C.P.E. Bach, V. D'Indy, highlighted by the sparkling Sinfonia Concertante K. 364 by Mozart, and traditional carols to sing with Pacifica, even Handel's Hallelujah chorus! 2936 Rockefeller Ave. Everett 98201

Sunshine Concert, Jan. 22, 2012, 3:00 pm at First Pres. Church, Everett Celebrate the New Year with sunny music performed by members of Pacifica. Bask in the warmth of composers Gliere, Reger, Glazunov, Sarasate, and Garcia. From Russia to Latin America, Pacifica takes the listener on musical adventures. 2936 Rockefeller Ave. Everett 98201

Spring Concert, March 9, 2012, 7:30 pm at Mukilteo Presbyterian Church, Mukilteo This Spring bouquet of music by Hindemith, Sibelius, Ravel, and Janacek will fill the heart with beautiful notes. Ravel's Introduction et Allegro will sparkle with flute, clarinet, harp, and string quartet. 4514 84th St. SW, Mukilteo 98275

Summer Concert, June 3, 2012, 3:00 pm at First Pres. Church, Everett Pacifica continues the excitement with chamber music of Copland, Appalachian Spring. Schoenberg's Kammer Symphonie for 15 solo instruments will delight the audience. Add Beethoven's Grand Fugue Op. 133 and stir into an incredible performance by this savvy ensemble. 2936 Rockefeller Ave, Everett 98201

In the spirit of keeping live chamber music available to everyone, ticket prices for the 2011-2012 season are $15 and $10. Additional details about the season and ticket information can be found at Pacifica's website: www.pacificachamberorchestra.org and by calling (425)743-0255
